The Confidence Formula: 101 Ways to Raise your Self-Esteem Instantly.

Big Welcome!

Dear Gutsy Leader,

You may not know it yet, but you have just taken a huge step towards self-awareness and committing to yourself. Every one of us feel anxiety and fear in certain situations - you're not alone. This report will show you how to quickly remove the negative self-talk and limiting beliefs whenever you step outside your comfort zone, especially doing what brings you most joy, the reason you are on this planet. You are meant to live a life you love with fulfillment. If you are not where you want to be right now in your career or business - I totally get it. Take a step back and recognize that the emotions you have been feeling are in response to the same story you have been telling yourself. Change the story, it's really that simple. The repeating patterns will stop once you step up to owning your value and how you are meant to serve in this world.

HOW TO BEST USE THESE CONFIDENCE TOOLS

This report was written with an assumption that you may be facing something in your professional life that you either have some anxiety, fear or a lack of confidence around. Sometimes this means having a difficult conversation with someone. Sometimes it can be preparing for a meeting or putting yourself out there asking others for help. Maybe you want to break away from what has paid the bills and try a new career path. You may not believe this, but 90% of your success is based on a confident mindset. How confident you are dictates how much you will achieve what you want in your life. I'm going to repeat that to stress how important and true this is.

HOW CONFIDENT YOU ARE, DICTATES HOW MUCH YOU WILL ACHIEVE WHAT YOU WANT IN YOUR LIFE.

Don't worry if you're not the smartest one in the room or as experienced. That's not what this is about. This is about walking into a room and being ok with not knowing every answer, but confidently believing that when a question is asked of you, you will find out! Act as-if. Act as-if you do have all the answers even if you don't. People don't care if you have it all figured out. They care that you care. Be good to yourself.

In this 101 ways list, I cover areas such as food, music, journaling, breathing, exercises and many, many other actions you can implement and do quickly and easily without much effort. Each will raise your self-esteem level in some way. The beauty of this list is that if you only took action on 10% of these items, you will see results. Keep leaning into these daily and soon you will find you are stepping into a calm assured way of feeling great about your self-worth and what you bring to this world. You actually have a lot to contribute to others. It's ok, I know we haven't met but through our connection, we are wired the same. ☺ We both know we have the potential for more challenging work that is fulfilling.

You are smart, gifted and know your fullest potential. Open yourself up to leaning towards any discomfort you may have and go gutsy anyway with confidence. That's how you change the outcome, by your new response to the same old thing coming up over and over again. Marisa

The Confidence Formula: 101 Ways to Raise your Self-Esteem Instantly.

*** Pssst! To turbo-charge any one of these confidence tools below, speak them out loud. With each one, say out loud exactly what each one instructs you to do or share them with someone as you do them. Your body will respond in a powerful healthy way when you are speaking positively about the results you intend to achieve. You will be in full alignment with your mindset, body and spirit. *****

1	Be intentional about what you want before you take that call or join that meeting. Be clear about what you want by writing it down ( which is more powerful ) "I will achieve _____".
2	Mentally list 3 things you like about a difficult person you are working with. Send them love and mean it. Observe how they are the next time you see them.
3	Pull out a photo of a happy moment in your life. Re-experience it again. Recognize in the big scheme of things that this upcoming situation is trivial compared to having joy in your life.
4	Memorize the open and closing comments of your meeting or discussion. What message will you leave them with?
5	Write down 3 points you will make. List them as big bullets down a page. Those are your takeaways.
6	If you expect push back, map out what it will most likely be and prepare for the counter argument or compromise you will make.
7	Organize a small group lunch or afternoon tea and treat them. Ask your circle for their trusted guidance and what they feel you should do next.
8	Create a vision board or paste in images of what you want to create in your life, into a Word document. Try these sites for free stock photos: www.Stocksy.com or www.Unsplash.com
9	Keep a folder of encouraging emails/ praise you have received over time.
10	Write 3 things you were grateful for in the last week.
11	Let go, release resistance and lean into whatever is making you uncomfortable.
12	Pretend that you called the meeting, presentation, event and everyone is waiting for you to arrive. Make it your party.
13	Write down exactly how you will feel when you leave the room. Empowered? Satisfied? Free? Project the feeling and then go create it for real.
14	Ask for 3 incredible TAKEAWAYS which will ultimately support you, which you imagine will result from the given situation. Observe yourself walking away with these 3 things that were big WINS.
15	On a scale of 1 to 10, how likely is it that you will effectively reach one of the above goals in #14 above? If the rating is less than 6, keep going back until those 3 things are very much a practical reality. Lean in and make them all 10's.
16	Call up someone who knows your strengths: an old client, a colleague, a mentor or manager. Ask if they have a few minutes to take an appreciation phone call from you.
17	Pick one word that you want to feel regularly to be your most confident. Write the following sentence 5 times and complete. "I am <insert your word>" "I am strong". "I am motivated" "I am energized"
18	Share your "I am" statements from #17, with a loved one. Energetically those statements will become you, because you've opened up your intentions, putting yourself out there more.
19	Suggest a walking meeting. Get outside. Ask for what you want in the great outdoors.

The Confidence Formula: 101 Ways to Raise your Self-Esteem Instantly.

20	Turn your goal ( what you wish to achieve ) into a declaration. Eg. If your goal is to feel beautiful every day. Then have someone ask: “Are you beautiful?” If this is a true statement, tell them how you are beautiful. Own it as a declaration.
21	Imagine you are always protected by a spiritual force of light surrounding you with love. Lean into the FACT that things always work out because of this protective energy.
22	Be a witness, not a participant to where you are and where you want to be. What would you tell someone if they needed the same support as you need right now?
23	What does the situation look like in the other person’s shoes? See it from another angle so you can prepare for any push back. What would you want to hear if you were them?
24	Share a joke. Tell a story where you can laugh at yourself. Think of something you did in the past week which was really dumb. People appreciate when you don’t take yourself too seriously.
25	Turn expectation into appreciation. Reach out to someone and thank them for their efforts. This can be on a personal or professional level.
26	Engage all five senses, visualize what you want as an outcome. How did it go? What did you wear? How did you feel? What did you sense?
27	Visit the room where you will be handling an upcoming situation which requires full confidence. Get comfortable with your environment. If you are unable to access this room, go to one which has a similar setup which you can visit.
28	Smile and imagine warm light filling your chest.
29	Make direct eye contact with everyone. Feel comfortable doing it.
30	Speak slowly and step-by-step with a nice rhythm which puts people at ease so they can walk through your thought process.
31	Introduce 3 major points you will make as bullets. You can count them out on your hand as you do so, stepping them through your leadership mindset.
32	Environment is everything. Modify your space at home where you can be your most productive. Cleaning a messy desk. Adding more light.
33	Catch yourself being pessimistic or complaining. When you do, mentally say “ erase erase ”. This delivers awareness and prevents it from happening again.
34	Be aware of your personal strengths. If you are unsure, ask others who have worked with you. Read prior recommendations/referrals/reviews of your work.
35	Look up the ladder, who is a role model? Even if they are in a different industry – what is that you admire about them? Own those same qualities.
36	Accept compliments fully. When you accept these whole-heartedly you open yourself up to receiving more.
37	Admit any mistakes or misjudgments and learn from criticism and feedback.
38	Set goals which are practical to reach but not a huge stretch which would set yourself up to fail. Start with a 120 day target outlook.
39	Lose the perfectionist gene and being caught in analysis paralysis. Inject more action into your life and less planning.

The Confidence Formula: 101 Ways to Raise your Self-Esteem Instantly.

40	Express gratefulness and appreciation in your life.
41	Accept not knowing the entire HOW of the path you are on and settle for just the next step. It opens yourself up to so much more possibility.
42	What is the one step you would advise someone if they were in your shoes right now?
43	Try taking a storytelling approach rather than speaking in black and white with facts. Weave in your opinion. This level of communication makes you influential.
44	Fast forward to the end of day. How will you feel? Write this down. Now go create this day.
45	Accept that you don't know all the answers. Commit to sounding confident because you will find out in a shortly after hearing the question.
46	Reach in and trust your gut. It will never steer you wrong.
47	Turn away from negative people who are funneling you their complaints.
48	What is your purpose? What is it that gets you out of bed each day? Start there.
49	Embrace alone time. Spend some healthy me time indulging at your favorite restaurant or activity.
50	See your situation from another angle and turn away from taking things personally. You can control your own emotions not others.
51	Play a victor card, not a victim one. Catch yourself complaining and turn it into appreciation or praise.
52	See the bigger picture instead of being dragged down into the weeds.
53	Snap your fingers and eliminate the pattern of negative self-talk when it crops up. Replace the thought with your "I am" worthwhile statements above.
54	Who needs your advice/guidance right now? How can you help someone in the world?
55	Celebrate yourself today. Treat yourself to something that gives you JOY.
56	Incorporate raw vegetables into your diet, versus complex ones.
57	Give yourself a compliment today and record it, so you can feel it every time you replay. Record you goals!
58	Ask for something you want and be unattached to the outcome.
59	Imagine a string at the top of your head, pulling your posture straight up whenever you walk confidently.
60	If you were a millionaire today, how would you act and dress differently? What would you self-promote about, with those who meet you?
61	Ask a child to tell you to not give up and keep going. Ask them to pat you on the back. Ask them to lift your arm up in celebration as the winner you are.
62	Pick up the phone and talk to your higher spirit/God/the Universe. Greet them and order exactly what you want as if you were placing an order from a catalog. Tell them when you would like it shipped by – the date. Thank them and hang up fully expecting to receive your shipment.
63	Lead someone. Someone can use your expertise or advice. Offer to give them that guidance and point them in the right direction.
64	Go all out with a grooming makeover. Have your eyebrows shaped. Whiten your teeth. Get a new haircut or makeover. Go for a new look with classy outfits. Get a mani-pedi.

The Confidence Formula: 101 Ways to Raise your Self-Esteem Instantly.

65	Write in your journal how you see yourself. What is your self-image? If anything negative comes up ask yourself if any of that is actually true? Are those self-imposed limiting beliefs?
66	What 3 questions do you need to answer in order to best prepare you for an upcoming situation?
67	Be clear on what your core values are. Mine are integrity and authenticity.
68	Pause from thinking about the given situation any longer and take action instead. Act without thinking about outcome. Keep moving your feet.
69	Start small. Set a mini-goal that is not so much of a stretch and you can reach. More of these will propel you into your future.
70	Look back at some recent accomplishments. How did you reach these? How did you do it? Now go replicate it and do it again because it wasn't LUCK. It was you in your BRILLIANCE.
71	Be solution oriented – focus on how you can solve it versus what the problem, complaint or frustration is. A solution focused mindset is what people gravitate to, even if they don't agree.
72	Move! Swim, power walk, dance in your closet. Raise the adrenaline and heart beat.
